Wisconsin-Made Exam Table Keeps Appointments with Dr. Oz

Award-Winning Brewer Access High-Low Exam Table Takes to the Road with Dr. Oz's "Highway to Health" Bus Tour

Menomonee Falls, WI – February 26, 2010 – The Brewer Company announced today that its Access High-Low Exam Table is making national appearances on Dr. Oz's "Highway to Health" bus as it tours major cities across the U.S. The table will be featured in the bus's traveling examination room and satellite studio.

The Brewer Access High-Low Exam Table, which received the Product of the Year Award from HIDA (Health Industry Distributors Association), easily and safely takes patients from consultation to examination. Grab bars that easily swing out of the way for patient access, as well as unique storage features, make this table a compact, innovative design that is well-suited for the space on the bus.

Brewer collaborated with LDV, Inc., a Burlington, WI-based company that designs and manufactures specialty vehicles. The chair was installed in mid-September in time for the tour's first stop in Houston, TX.

"We're proud to have our exam table on Dr. Oz's bus," stated Brewer Company President and CEO, Paul Siepmann. "Its user-friendly, innovative design makes it a fitting choice for a tour that will impact so many individuals," Siepmann added.

Recently making stops in Kansas City and Los Angeles, the bus will be visiting other cities in the next few months. The Brewer Company plans to meet up with the bus in some of the cities for special events with its distributor representatives, physicians, and others interested in Brewer's full line of products.
